San Diego Mine Project

Need

The San Diego Mine, located 20 miles west of Kingman, Arizona, is on land administered by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The exposed mine poses a high risk to public safety at this time. This project will consist of installing access barriers and fencing to reduce public safety risks and to protect sensitive wildlife habitat and cultural resources. This project began in March 2010 with completion planned in June 2010.

Recovery Act Funding

The competitive contract for this BLM-Arizona American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) project was awarded to Hausanrufe for $12,900.

Benefits

The reclamation work will contract for closure of dangerous shafts and adits to prevent entry by the public, thereby mitigating this public safety hazard. The fabrication and installation of bat gates and cupolas will also preserve bat habitat in abandoned mine workings. This will allow the public to have safe recreation opportunities on public lands administered by the BLM.
